The Priority Matrix software makes it easier to manage the status of tasks and projects and makes the overall workflow within a team much more efficient. You can also review the deadlines, the tasks that were done, the ones that weren't, the tasks that need more attention and all the other relevant information. The software makes it easy to create several matrices for different projects. With the help of the software, you can visualize all the information and organize it so as to get a clear overview of the situation. You can organize the matrices according to the type of tasks that need to be reviewed, the amount of time a task should take and the importance. Additionally, the software supports other types of matrices, including the matrix of differences between two elements, a matrix of dependencies and matrices of interactions. You can even create a matrix that will help you compare the advantages and disadvantages of an offer or generate a retroactive project analysis by examining the successes, the failures and the targets of a project. Furthermore, the application supports Outlook as well as Evernote and you can send a chosen matrix via email to any contact you want (using Outlook or your default email client). In order to generate an excellent report, you can also make use of the software's color coding that can help you make sure that the most important elements are prioritized and the others are not ignored. The Priority Matrix app supports several other functions as well. You can create your own subprojects, collaborate with your colleagues and organize all the work on a team. If you have a team, you can enable the project features, then synchronize it with your colleagues, making sure that you have the latest version of the list. You can also download the project for offline viewing if you are away from the office. The app supports the creation of group accounts and you can invite your colleagues so as to easily manage the projects. You can also modify the colors used within each project to ensure the best visibility for the most important elements. The Priority Matrix app is ideal for companies that use project management systems, internal collaboration tools or are looking to create a project management software. Description: It is a simple to use project management tool that is suitable for all teams. The software is great for those who want to improve their project management and ensure the complete follow-up of all projects. The app has three main screens, where you can view all the tasks in chronological order as well as a task board. You can then create new projects, edit existing projects, set deadlines and assign them to the team. You can also set the priority of the task and manage projects as well as their stages. You can then get the overall status of all the projects or simply see the tasks that are still pending. Furthermore, the app supports sub-projects, discussions, subtasks and deadlines. Once you have created a project, you can easily
